HISTORICAL NOTE

The Rhode Island Stereocard Collection is an artificial collection created by the Providence Public Library according to format type. The Collection incorporates various acquisitions and gifts.

SCOPE AND CONTENTS OF THE COLLECTION

The Rhode Island Stereocard Collection contains stereograms with images related to geographic locations, buildings and organizations in the State of Rhode Island as well as various miscellaneous images found with the collection.

ORGANIZATION OF THE COLLECTION

Collection is organized into two series: 1. Found in collection and 2. Ongoing accessions. Items “found in collection” in Series 1 comprise the initial collection processed in 2015 which had no provenance or accession information. Those images were arranged by town and item identifications represent the collection number, folder number & image number. Items added to the collection from 2016 onwards comprise Series 2. Images in this series are arranged as they were purchased. Item identifications represent the collection number, year of acquisition and item number.
